Choosing your Authentic Inquiry Topic

- Choosing an 'object' which has personal significance
- In this first step the learner is invited to select a concrete place, object or artefact which has personal significance to them.

Key Principles:

- The object is concrete or tangible and the learner is interested in it
- With disengaged children this task may take some time and careful scaffolding.

In groups of 3

Discuss each of your objects or artefacts that you have chosen

- How did you arrive at your choice?
- Was this task easy/difficult? Why?
- Would you like to change it?
